About me

I am a full-stack web developer from Nairobi, Kenya. I am currently studying Applied Computer Technology at the United States International University Africa (USIU-A) and completing code bootcamp at Moringa School.

Experience

Global Ambassador, Duolingo: 2018-2019

As a global ambassador for Duolingo, I hosted events in Nairobi for all learners of the German language on the platform. The meet ups were important in establishing a community of learners from Duolingo in Nairobi and providing a means of practising of the language with monthly themes and learning resources created by fellow hosts for sharing with the attendees to assist in improving and reinforcing the language.

Education

Moringa School: 2019 - 2020

Certificate in Full-Stack Web Development.

United States International University - Africa: 2019-Present
